HISTORY OF

SEEMA SIROHI MEMORIAL INTER COLLEGE

---

Seema Sirohi Memorial Inter College (SSMIC) was founded in 1988 by the dedicated couple, Satendra Pal Sirohi and Seema Sirohi, in the village of Neemapati, Saidpur, Bulandshahr. The school was established with the mission of providing quality education to underprivileged children, a cause deeply important to both founders.

The school is named in honor of Seema Sirohi, a remarkable woman whose life and legacy continue to inspire the institution. Seema Sirohi was not just a co-founder but a symbol of courage and dedication. In 2007, she became a martyr, sacrificing her life for a cause she believed in. Her commitment to education and her community has made her an icon at SSMIC, where her legacy is kept alive every day through the work of the school.

From its modest beginnings, SSMIC has grown into a respected educational institution, known for its dedication to academic excellence, character development, and social responsibility. The school continues to uphold the values that Seema Sirohi stood for, empowering students to reach their full potential and contribute positively to society.

Over the years, SSMIC has grown from a small institution with limited resources into a well-established school that serves hundreds of students from the local community and beyond. The school has expanded its curriculum, introduced modern teaching methods, and built state-of-the-art facilities to meet the evolving needs of its students. Despite these advancements, the core mission of providing accessible and quality education to all remains unchanged.
